

Arden Jann, Shooting Horses

Arden Jann
Miscellaneous
Shooting Horses

Don't worry, the sun is just around the corner and,
Don't worry, the downpour of unhappiness is over I can see you now so clearly crawling on your bloody knees
And everything you thought was going wrong was really nothing after all they're shooting horses shooting horses somewhere else right now Shooting horses

Don't worry the sun is shining on the ugliness Don't worry there really is a God up in heaven Skies so blue they'll break your heart where angel's carry soldiers off And everything you thought would pull you down into the fiery depths of hell

They're shooting horses
shooting horses somewhere else right now
Shooting horses

You don't know how hard I tried to keep you well to keep you well You don't know how much I need you lean on me save yourself

Don't worry the sun is just around the corner and Don't worry the downpour of this heaviness is over I can see us now so clearly laughing like we always did
And everything you thought was going wrong was really nothing after all

they're shooting horses
shooting horses somewhere else right now
They're shooting horses

They're shooting horses