Aretha Franklin F/ Elton John, Through The Storn

Aretha Franklin F/ Elton John Miscellaneous Through The Storm In this world it's hard you know lovers come and lovers go people never seem to hold on to what they've got. Some they never stay together you and I will be no better we can make it last forever we can keep this love alive.

Through the storm through the tears

you and I I know we can survive. To the day through the night

if we try we can keep it alive we can keep it alive.

I know sometimes it's been so tough we've been so close to giving up but our love's so strong and we keep holding on yeah to what we got. It's easier to walk away it takes a lot of love to stay we've got all the love it takes we know there's a brighter day.

Through the storm through the tears

you and I I know we can survive. To the day through the night

if we try we can keep it alive we can keep it alive.

We just gotta be strong we just gotta be strong we just gotta be strong together we just gotta hold on we just gotta hold on we just gotta hold on and go through the storm.

Through the storm through the tears

you and I

I know we can survive. To the day through the night

if we try we can keep it alive we can keep it alive.

Through the storm through the tears

you and I I know we can survive. To the day through the night
