

Aretha Franklin, Just for a Thrill

Just for a thrill
You changed the sunshine to rain
And just for a thrill
You filled my heart with so much pain
To me you were my pride and joy
Oh but to you I was merely a toy
A plaything, a plaything, a plaything
That you could toss around at will
And just for a thrill, a thrill, a thrill
You made my life, you made my life one sad song
And just for a thrill
You took me by the hand and you just led, you led me along
And although you're free I know you're having fun
Oh but to me and in my heart you'll still be the only one
Because you, oh you made my heart stand still, yeah
Just for your own personal thrill, thrill
