

Ari Koivunen, Stay True

Breaking the chains
I cannot deny the Blood that runs
Through my veins
I would do it again
All my life I've been in this State of war and
I'll fight until the end of my time
Why won't you let me be me?
I'm resisting endlessly
refr&atilde;o
People are turning, yearning and burning
Always looking for something... I will stay true
People are waiting, wishing and wondering
What will you do, I will stay true
What ever you do, stay true
Turning the pages of
The life I've been leading
It has not been easy but
The pages are clean
I'd do it again
All my life I've been in this State of far and
I'll fight until the end of my time
Why won't you let me be me?
I'm fighting endlessly
refr&atilde;o
One day we will all be Together, yet still able to see
The true faces of our brothers
One day we will all be free
People are turning, yearning and burning
Always looking for something... I will stay true
People are waiting, wishing and wondering
What will you do? I will stay true
What ever you do, stay true
