

Ari Koivunen, Stormwind

No-one knows where she came from on the night of rain and storm
They found a sleeping girl down by the shore
They never trained this trouble-child
She grew up, and she grew wild
She seems to be searching for something more, something worth dying for

[CHORUS]

Her name is Stormwind
She's the daughter of the raging sea
Every night you hear her lonely song*
From across the bay
Her heart is trembling
Like a leaf from a maple tree
Wait it fall in the autumn rain*
Wait it to fly away,*
Fly away
Her whisper's like a summer breeze
When she cries the rivers freeze
No-one has ever reached her restless soul
You may try to break her will
To tie her down and keep her still
But in the end you'll just break away
She likes to go alone

[CHORUS]

Through the rain
Through the blazing sun
Hide your pain from each and everyone
Through the summer
Through the fields of snow
No-one will ever go

[CHORUS]

Her name is Stormwind...
