

Ari Koivunen, Sweet Madness

I turn the key
I dare not see
I close my eyes and enter the fear
The evil voice
That says I have no choice
It leads me to the sea
Of violent waves anger
Suppressed by the days
From pounding waves
I find my grace
It makes me shout
Get out of my dreams, away, my sweet madness
Someone else will soon define you
You have to stay out of my dreams, away, my sweet madness
Guess we have to say goodbye
You hold the time
My peace of mind
Hangs by a thread
Now nothing is clear
And all the while
From the darkest aisle
Your power clings to me
Like a violent waves of anger
I fail to erase
From pounding waves
I find my grace
It makes me shout
Get out of my dreams, away, my sweet madness
Someone else will soon define you
You have to stay out of my dreams, away, my sweet madness
Guess we have to say goodbye
Goodbye
Tears me up inside
Illusions have to die
Get out of my dreams, away, my sweet madness
Someone else will soon define you
You have to stay out of my dreams, away, my sweet madness
Guess we have to say goodbye
