

Ariel Pink, Politely Declined

if you ask me to call one more time i will be forced to ignore your pressure violently i guess there's no use

and i'll politely decline i'll put an end to your worry

again, i'll politely decline if you call me

...
and you complete as a woman now what can i do?

forget your offer
i guess it's a game to break all the rules see, my wall's going up too hard to explain that you're really a bore leave me alone

i politely decline
you every time, it's a clue it's not that i'm busy, it's you find ways to make me turn blue once again, i'll politely decline when you call me and may move on with your story

i'm getting a fever just from your face won't you get out of my way get out of my pace don't even bother trying to make it all right
'cause i was lying to you when i was being polite now, ..., they try to make you break down and cry, cry for no reason why, why

for no reason why

..., they try to make you break down and cry

if i politely decline i'll put an end to your ... i'll put a cork in it, scurry, and get the fuck out of here once again, i'll politely decline you withdraw me

ah, ah-ah, ah
