Armagedda, Volkermord Pt. I

I can feel it in my mind The real evilness is coming And we are waiting for it Possess our pure souls

Those creatures who hate us Will have their minds drown in the skuggons shadow Your end is never coming, your life will never end Because your mind will be lost in an eternal suffer

Come on and fill my mortal soul I will not betray you Just give me strength to protect our rising DEATH kingdom

After this day will the smell of death remind us That the mighty dark thing came at last It will now lead us into the great spirit battle And my consciousness have I left in my past
