

Armin Van Buuren, What If

What if I got right into
My mind's velocity
What if I finally discovered
The rules of eternity
Will you stop running? Will you stop hiding?
And looking for material things
Will you start searching will you start seeking for
Your immortal wings
What if I tell you
What we live for, what we die for
What if I tell you
That you will be born again
What if I tell you
What we live for, what we die for
What if I tell you
That you will be born again
And you will do it all over again
And again, and again, and again