

Armor For Sleep, All Warm

I'll find a cave for you For you to run to Nothing can break through stone You'll sleep through winter You'll never feel the cold
The years will be all warm
You'll bury yourself
When you've had enough and the world will think that you've just run off but I'll always know how you chose to go
inside your stone world
Where winter is broken

If I could build for you a magic retreat from seasons that break your bones Trust me I'd live to

trust me I would build for you
a world for you
would build for you
a world for you
The years will be all warm

You'll bury yourself
how you chose to go
Where winter is broken
