

Armor For Sleep, Basement Ghosts Singing

Now I'm in your basement
I'm laying low to keep out of your way
I hear your footsteps
Move the floorboards above my head
I have my own routine now
I'm keeping busy in my own way
I'm learning ways to not feel
Like I'm down here forever

I hear your footsteps
Move the floorboards above my head
I hope that you know that I'm down here
Just for you
I sang a song to you through the floor
To reach you upstairs
I thought I heard you call out for more
I know that's crazy
I'm pretty sure that I'm lost again
And won't get thorough to you
I won't get through, I think I won't get through

I'm gonna close my mouth now
You don't need more noise in your life
I miss you more than you know
But I know time makes you move on

I hear your footsteps
move the floorboards above my head
I hope you know I'm down here
Just for you
I sang a song to you through that floor
To reach you upstairs
I thought I heard you call out for more
I know that's crazy
I'm pretty sure that I'm lost again
And I won't get through to you
I won't get through, I think I won't get through

The lights are off and I'm lost again
The lights are off and I'm lost again
The lights are off and I'm lost again
The lights are off and I'm lost again
The lights are off and I'm lost again
The lights are off and I'm lost again
Lights are off
