

Art Of Fighting, Distance As Virtue seems Ive been waiting my whole life but the waiting is not something I admire cause I lose myself in time theres nothing left to find but the shape of me defined by who we were

and I dont why you
I dont know where you
I dont know who you
I dont know how you
I silently curse you
distance as virtue
yeah I only fear you
when I am near you
I make mistakes trying to do things right and I stumble round until the morning light and the days I spiral through with nothing to pursue cause the one place I cant be is next to you
and I dont why you
I dont know where you
I dont know who you
I dont know how you
yeah I only fear you
when I am near you
yeah I only fear you
when I am near you
don't you got something to say to me?
don't leave me hanging on empty wires
don't you got something to say to me?
