

Art Rush, Let's Be Mates Of State

I've built up a confidence, she said
Lately I've been singing more often
When I saw her for the first time in months
The other day

Well maybe it's not too late
For us to be Mates of State

I've been getting some demos together, she said
Tell me what you think of my tape
Well, how do I say this
You'd look good in my headset
And nothing would look better on you

Maybe it's just the hormones singing
But I want you in my room today
Let's intertwine our voices
You can dust off whatever you play
I've dreamed so much about you
That our meeting must be fate
There's nothing I'd want more
Than for us to be Mates of State

We could be dreamers
We could tour Japan
We could meet by chance
Maybe we already have

Now I just can't help but feel like
I'm somebody's Jason
The missing piece to someone's Kori
Feelin' the same way

We'll harmonise each other and we'll ease each others fears
For what is love but singing and you're music to my ears

I've been writing a bunch of songs lately, she said
I'm thinking about a duet
Well, how do I say this
You'd look good in my headset
And nothing would look better on you

Maybe it's just the hormones singing
But I want you in my room today
Let's intertwine our voices
You can dust off whatever you play
I've dreamed so much about you
That our meeting must be fate
There's nothing I'd want more
Than for us to be Mates of State
