

Artefact, Take My Time

Spinning leaves
Before my feet
When summer leaves
I am complete

Nights in sweat I leave behind me
Days of shining agony
Now's your chance to finally find me
Do you catch my irony?....

Take your time
Wait for my sign
Take your time
Wait for my sign

I'll take my time....anyway
M y time....anyway

Take your time
Wait for my sign
Over and over again
Keep moving and i'll tell you when.

Sometimes what i say
Isn't really what i mean
It's the truth for today
But different it has-been.

Must you point out this shortcoming
And tell me that the time is running.... Out
Don't you even make me start
About your artificial heart.

Do you realize
You're the devil in disguise
It's no surprise

Take your time
Wait for my sign
Over and over again
Keep moving and i'll tell you when.

Time changes everything
Time is overwhelming
Time makes me want you back
Time makes me turn my back
On you.
