

Article One, Slow Down

One try and you couldn't believe it
Head high and you got your first hit
Front page, now you got me reading
You say that you like the feeling
But slow down, don't you see it coming?
It's too late now, do you hear them talking?
Talking 'bout what lies ahead
You came from the middle of nowhere
Took it to the top to have it crumble apart
Hard pressed to be somebody out there
You were thinking maybe
You were thinking maybe tonight
You were thinking maybe
You stayed, long enough to miss it
Things change, so you'd best admit it, yeah
So strong and it keeps you going
So long now you'd best be moving on
You took the risks and made it, sacrifices paid it
It's the only way to get things off the ground
But life has kept on going, there's fewer doors to open
One's greatest strength so often brings them down
(Don't let that be the thing that brings you down)
