

Article One, Taken By The Storm

So baby don't play games
You're on the road to something
Don't wish it all away
Just because you feel like nothing
When you don't know how to feel
And you don't know how to cry
You can find some hope tonight
God only knows just where you are
So move a little closer
Take it even slower
Don't let this be the end
She's falling even faster
Angels can you catch her?
Yeah, I'm scared to lose a friend
God I know you see a life beyond the chaos
Tomorrow is the promise that you'll never let her go tonight
What heaven holds won't be taken by the storm
So baby don't play games
There's thunder in these skies
Life hits us all in waves
So just do your best to try
Yeah it's okay if you fear
And it's okay if you cry
Just don't give up inside
God only knows just where to start
So baby don't play games
Don't throw your life away
When you don't know how to feel
And you don't know just why you run
Safe and sound tonight
You're safe and sound tonight
Oh would you take this love by storm
Heaven's holding you tonight
