

Aruna, Break You Open

Can you hear me?
Are you faraway and distracted
Or afraid of what I might say
Cuz I know your every move
I can see things
That you walk right through
And I listen to the lessons lost on you
In your race to escape the truth

But I would be the one to break you open
Make you come undone
And I would be the one to turn you over
Let you see what youve become
Cuz theres something in you
Thats dyin to come alive
But youre happy hangin on
Just getting by

Has it faded?
Are you bored with the life youve created?
Would you sacrifice yourself
To protect everything you own?
Cuz it seems to me
That the more you have, the more you want
And the less you understand
How to love and let things go

But I would be the one to break you open
Make you come undone
And I would be the one to turn you over
Let you see what youve become
Cuz theres something in you
Thats dyin to come alive
But youre happy hangin on
Just getting by

Cuz its easy to ignore
Til the walls around you shatter
And nothing seems to matter anymore

Now youre stranded
But youll stand your ground
Empty-handed
Cuz it hurts to turn around

But I would be the one to break you open
Make you come undone
And I would be the one to turn you over
Let you see what youve become
Cuz theres something in you
Thats dyin to come alive
But youre happy hangin on
Just getting by
