

Aruna, Into The Light

Heaven above, blind me with love
Banish the demons that eat us alive
I come to you now praying, somehow,
Your angels will lead us into the light

Cover your eyes, run away
Dont let it into your sight
Cuz what you dont know might hurt you
But youd rather be happy than right
And Im so alone in my search for the truth
I forgot how to care
Wearing thin, Im caving in and crumbling to pieces

Still Ill be brave
Unafraid and unashamed, I reach for new worlds
But theyre so far away
Broken down, I turn around, fall to my knees, and I pray

Heaven above, blind me with love
Banish the demons that eat us alive
I come to you now praying, somehow,
Your angels will lead us into the light

Restless desire, drag me down
Show me the world that weve made
Scatter the seeds of indifference
On the winds of the love we betrayed
Someday Ill learn to forgive and let go
And one day well be free
From war and greed and apathy, youre tearing me to pieces

Still I endure
Standing tall inside it all, I fight to find hope in each moment
But its just too late
Broken down, I turn around, fall to my knees and I pray

Heaven above, blind me with love
Banish the demons that eat us alive
I come to you now praying, somehow,
Your angels will lead us into the light
Keep us from harm, safe in your arms
Guided by faith and the beauty inside
I come to you now praying, somehow,
Your angels will lead us into the light

Over the mountains of fear
To the fields of the soul
Hearten my heart when the darkness wont let go

Heaven above, blind me with love
Banish the demons that eat us alive
I come to you now praying, somehow,
Your angels will lead us into the light
Keep us from harm, safe in your arms
Guided by faith and the beauty inside
I come to you now praying, somehow,
Your angels will lead us into the light
