

Arwen, Between Love And Pain

Look through time felt the heat on your skin breezes're whispering a tale remember what I say

Girl made of stone show me your burning heart full of feelings that an arrow crossed

I see a light shine in your eyes and now I know... I'm not wrong!
help me to break this thin line between love and pain

If I cry, will you feel my tears?
If you die...

Tell me why don't you have desires and let your dreams fly with mine then our souls will be together finding what real love is this time

The feel of your kiss Steals my life and my breath
I am bonding with you, this is my desire

Maybe someday I'll be far away
But my love for you will never change

I see a light...
