

As I Lay Dying, Forever

forever your eyes will hold the memory i saw your heart as it overtook me we tried so hard to understand and reason but in that one moment i gave my heart away

i gave my heart away
in that moment i gave my heart away

with that perfect breath where my mind lay beside me and all i knew is what had overtaken me with no reason i am comforted by inability to understand

forever your eyes will hold the memory

forever your eyes will hold the memory

when i wake from this dream will your smile still open my heart and leave me transparent?
will your smile still open my heart
and leave me transparent?
