

As It Stands, Moving On

Since I've talked to you you're always on my mind it's like I've got a new best friend and I can't think

Backing out because you've walked away backing out because it's hard to say words like that tend
You know I want to kiss you but I cannot find the time you know I want to miss you but your not mir

I'm losing my mind what would I say to you? I don't even know your name and if I tried what would

Although I'm in despair I saw you standing there that's when I started to stare I couldn't hold out lon

I'm losing my mind
