

As Tall As Lions, Love, Love, Love (Love, Love)

Have I ever told you before
I think you're beautiful when you're sleeping?
I have faith you watch me in my slumber too
If I'm all that you're looking for tell me
Why is there a river streaming down your face?
Oh yeah it's streaming
Sometimes makes me wonder
All about your

Love, love, love, love, love
After some time it's something I find true
Love, love, love, love, love
Love's not a grave, it won't decay on you
Love, love, love, love, love
Too many days I was afraid of love
Love, love, love, love, love

What if nothing is just that
And suffering's the only thing we're good at?
Dreaming, picture that a whole world in a slumber
Oh yeah, we're dreaming
But don't get too attached to the living
Even every single memory's fleeting
Oh yeah, it's fleeting
That's a fact, being torn asunder
But to my surprise, no reason why
One day I woke up and realized

Love, love, love, love, love
After some time it's something I find true
Love, love, love, love, love
Love's not a grave, it won't decay on you
Love, love, love, love, love
Too many days I was afraid of love
Love, love, love, love, love

Give it to me, love
Love, love, love, love, love
Give it to me, love
Love, love, love, love, love
Give it to me, love
Love, love, love, love, love

I'll keep you in my focus
With love and affection
Love, love, love, love, love
I'll keep you in my focus
With love and affection
Love, love, love, love, love
I'll keep you in my focus
With love and affection
Love, love, love, love, love
I'll keep you in my focus
With love and affection
Love, love, love, love, love
I'll keep you in my focus
With love and affection
Love, love, love, love, love
