

Ascension Of The Watchers, Canon For My Beloved

You were the first to believe
You were the one, you helped me see
You raised me up and out from my grief
You took my hand and set my soul free
I broke your heart, released your tears
Now I can feel you floating away
From me
Your loneliness, a beckon call
Distance and days that let love fall
Time hangs above your heart
All the betrayal that tears us apart
I never meant to hurt my love this way
I never meant for my heart to stray
I broke your heart, released your tears
Now I can feel you floating away
From me
I love you... I do
I feel you floating away
Love that has fallen away
Sadness takes you now
Disheartened and disavowed
I broke your heart, released your tears
Now I can feel you floating away
From me