

Ascension Of The Watchers, Violet Morning

Violet Morning full of grace
A new dawning on my face
A flower blooming every day
You pierced my soul and touched my faith
You are the light for my love
You are the love for my God
Violet Morning I feel you shine
Enlightening my space and time
In your warmth my heart did find
A pure soul, a love divine
The only light in my eyes
The only love of my life
You are the light for my love
You are the love for my God
The only light in my eyes
The only love of my life
You are my morning sun
You are the light where I begun
full of grace
A new dawning on my face
A flower blooming every day
You pierced my soul and touched my faith
You are the light for my love
You are the love for my God
Violet Morning I feel you shine
Enlightening my space and time
In your warmth my heart did find
A pure soul, a love divine
The only light in my eyes
The only love of my life
You are the light for my love
You are the love for my God
The only light in my eyes
The only love of my life
You are my morning sun
You are the light where I begun
