

Aselin Debison, Bigger Than Me

When I look around me
Everything's so blurry
In a world that's bigger than me
When there's no one to talk to
I can lay mine on you
You will always comfort me

For every step that's held me back
For every second chance I've had
You always seem to, to find a way
To tell me...

That you love me
That you need me
That you'll find me whenever I get lost inside my head
That you'll save me
Completely
From a world that's bigger than me

In the blink of an eye
You make everything right
No more dark cloud following
When I've got empty pockets
And when I'm stuck in traffic
I can tell it's you just by the ring

For every corner cut too fast
For every time that I came last
You always seem to, to find a way

To tell me...

That you love me
That you need me
That you'll find me whenever I get lost inside my head
That you'll save me
Completely
From a world that's bigger than me

When I look around me
Everything's so blurry
In a world that's bigger than me

But you love me
But you need me
But you'll find me whenever I get lost inside my head
But you'll save me
Completely
From a world that's bigger than me

But you need me
But you'll find me whenever I get lost inside my head
But you'll save me
Completely
From a world that's bigger than me

From a world that's bigger than me...
