Ash, Coasting

The curtain is dropping

I Stand in the fading lights of my summer

My heart is breaking

As the happiest time of my life is ending

I never laughing Only forgetting

As Í lose my memory

The sun is for the last time setting

All the time it takes

My whole life would never last that long

It's sad but it's true so I must get on

With my short life meandering on and on

Into inexistance

Now I'm dreaming

Of someone so precious

The world's too cruel to

Hold her in its arms and hatefully break her

Now I'm leaving

Standing at the front door for the last time

I was coasting in a dream world

But smiling faces are no more

All the time it takes

My whole life could never last that long

It's sad but it's true so I must get on

With my short life meandering on and on

Into inexistance

If you're coasting

If you're sailing

If you're dreaming

You can be my friend we can dream together

If you're coasting

If you're smiling

If you're nowhere

Hide your face till no one's looking

All the time it takes

My whole life could never last that long

It's sad but it's true so I must get on

With my short life meandering on and on

Into inexistance

I try so hard

But I can never have her back again

I lost it all and she heard me cry

And she knows so well

That it's sad but it's true so I must get on

With my short life been gathering on and on

Into inexistance

If you like me

If you're like me

If you're coasting

I will dream with you
