

Ash, The Little Pond

I was dreaming that tomorrow
I was lying in the grass
I saw you come towards me
You got out and smiled
The sun was shining while you came up to me
The breeze blew over your body
As I talked to you
I think that I love you
The rivers flow swiftly
And the sky is blue
The clouds are dark, gently over me and you
Tell me how you remember
The things I didn't know
The summer is here now
The winter's up and gone
The time has come for me to say
That I've never felt happier than I am today
Maybe you could stay
We could watch the stars
Will they go away?
Oh man, it's ok, ahhhhh..aaaaahhhhhhhhhh
We could get up in the morning
With the sunrise
When the suns above us
We can close our eyes
We could swim in the river
With the dragonflies
And when the day is over
I'll kiss you goodnight
It'll be alright
We could look at the mountains from the hill
When the wind sweeps around us
And blows through your hair
We could follow the stream
To the old mill
We could look into the orchard
From the window sill

As I always knew it would
An I've been this way
I saw it from the very first day
Of man, its ok, aaahhhhhh.ahhhhhhhhhh
And the birds fly [x2]
Around the ??? house
And the fishes swim [x2]
Around the little pond
And me and her
We are like them
We are happily cast off from the world
So the birds fly and fishes swim
We all smile cos we are free (aaaaaaahhhhhhhhhh)
It's near the end of summer
And we are still here
The bees are leaving
We'll not disappear
As the leaves are all falling
We won't feel the fall
The light will feel so healthy
Only you could know
It's now time to let go
And leave our summer home
We can face the winter at home
With a perfect ???
It'll be ok
