

Ashbury Heights, Smile

When you smile
I'm in denial
Just for a while
I'd wish for you to see
When you smile
I can't prevent
My descent
Into epiphany

And you'll never know
Just how much
I'd never show
I need your touch

When you smile
The sun resides
In your eyes
It's all too bright for me

When you smile
My heart collides
I let it slide
Into apathy
