Ashlee Simpson, I Am Me

What's she got that I don't have Does she fill those spaces that I left you When you wake up everynight Does the scent of regret ever haunt you

Put this under your skin I am me and I won't change for anyone Me and I won't change for anyone For anyone like you

Does the weight of consequence Drag you down until it pulls you under Does she lend an eager hand to save you From the future of being with her Are you with her?

Put this under her skin I am me and I won't change for anyone Me and I won't change for anyone For anyone like you

Why would I, Why would I change Why would I change Put this under your skin
