

Ashley Parker Angel, Feels So Alive

Red lights flashing, I keep driving through
Thirty-first of December
Photographs I never took of you
Yeah I start to remember
Broken moments that I might have thrown away
I don't care, I'll be okay

I got know way of knowing
Exactly where I'm going
But I feel so alive
Everything is changing, life is rearranging
But I feel so alive
So alive

Whoa oh oh, Whoa oh oh

Payphone calling it's so hard to forget
But can you forgive me?
No, I'll never be what you expect
I'm not sorry
For every moment that I'm making a mistake
I bend, but I won't break

I got no way of knowing
Exactly where I'm going
But I feel so alive
Everything is changing, life is rearranging
But I feel so alive

Cause I've been so far
And I'm halfway there
It's just from the edge
Yeah I won't be scared

Everything is changing, life is rearranging
But I feel so alive
So alive

How would it be?
How would it be if you
Could finally accept that this is me?

Got no way of knowing
Exactly where I'm going
But I feel so alive
Everything is changing, life is rearranging
But I feel so alive

Cause I've been so far
And I'm halfway there
It's just from the edge
Yeah I won't be scared

Everything is changing, life is rearranging
But I feel so alive
So alive
