

Ashley Parker Angel, I'm Sorry

I'm shattered and broken beyond repair
I'm jaded, so sick of being here;
I fked up one too many times, this time I fked up my whole life

But it's been coming for a while,
and I've been hiding in denial
I never quite had what it takes to be a man,
I should have turned myself around,
I should have tried to stand my ground
But now its over, and theres nothing left for me to do but go

It's been too long to make amends
So I'll just go,
Goodbye my friend
If you just asked,
I'd get down on my knees
But we both know its best that I just leave

And its been coming for a while
and I've been hiding in denial
I never quite had what it takes to be a man
I should have turned myself around,
I should have tried to stand my ground
But now its over, and theres nothing left for me to do
but go

.....nothing left for me to do but go....

I know I've made too many bad mistakes
I know I've let you down so much
I'll be gone before you know,
That I still love you so
But I'm sorry.....
