

Ashley Tisdale, Me Without You

Its just you and me and theres no one around
I feel like Im hanging by a thread, its a long way down
Ive been trying to breathe, but Im fighting for air
Im at an all time low with no place to go
But youre always there when everything falls apart
And it seems like the world is crashing at my feet
You like me the best, when Im a mess
When Im my own worst enemy
You make me feel beautiful
When I have nothing left to prove
And I cant imagine how Id make it through
Theres no me without you
No me without you, no no
You hear what I say, when I dont say a word
You are my rising sun, youre the place I run
You know how it hurts when everything falls apart
And it seems like the world is crashing at my feet
You like me the best, when Im a mess
When Im my own worst enemy
You make me feel beautiful
When I have nothing left to prove
And I cant imagine how Id make it through
Theres no me without you
No me without you
Theres no me without you
No me without you
And when you say baby its gonna get better, I believe you
And I wish that somehow I could see me though what you do
With my imperfections, you think Im perfect
When its not easy, you make it worth it
When everything falls apart
And it seems like the world is crashing at my feet
You like me the best, when Im a mess
When Im my own worst enemy
You make me feel beautiful
When I have nothing left to prove
And I cant imagine how Id make it through
Theres no me without you
No me without you, no no
No me without you
No me without you, no no no
