

Ashton Allen, Something To Say

Comfort calls on me always in time
In bed alone
Holding your phone
Like a baby so innocent
I called out your name
Could you save me for now?
Favorite blankets and words on a string
Keeping those four feet off the floor
And I'm offered a calling . dream
Of wanting and wishing you're here
So are you somebody who I'd pick up for?
Somebody new or a drug
That's going straight to my veins
Or into my heart
Or is it all in my head?
I'm just spinning in you
Tired of throwing these thoughts at the wall
Seeing you there, going nowhere
You remind me how everything will turn out in time
To picture the shape of your life
So are you somebody who I'd pick up for?
Somebody new or a drug
To go straight to my veins
Or into my heart
Or is it all in my head?
I'm just spinning in you
It makes me feel better to know that you know what I mean
Cause I've always got something to say
Cause the sooner we wait for our story book scene
To find us and take us away
Won't you take me away?
So are you somebody who I'd pick up for?
Somebody new or a drug to go straight to my veins
Or into my heart? Or is it all in my head?
I'm just spinning
I'm just spinning around in you.
I'm just spinning around in you.
Comfort calls on me always in time
In bed alone
Holding the phone
You are there, you're listening
You stay up all night
You saved me for now.
