&lt;/lyrics&gt;

I'm flying from the end of the earth straight into town
I get the idea that time is endless
Accelerating through the night, in a sandstorm notice, I don't know where I am

Dancing to an impromptu song
Making a ring between love and a future that holds no truth
Even the meager wishes we make daily
Are just like dreams

This is all I've got right now
Is a revolution raging in my heart

Far, far away from here
Futility is piercing through the buildings
And the only reality in this 6 mat apartment is that I'm numb

I cover my eyes
And I create an image of you
And in my imagination, I realize
You're missing everything, too

This is all I've got right now
And that's probably all you've got
And with the image that's floating in the back of my mind
There's a revolution raging in my heart

Far, far away from here
Futility is piercing through the buildings
And the only reality in this 6 mat apartment is that I'm numb

I cover my eyes
And I create an image of you
And in my imagination, I realize
You're missing everything, too
