

Asp, Where Do The Gods Go?

Where do they go?

I'm lying crying in my bed
I hear your voice inside my head
Too scared of opening my eyes and what is there

I feel you walking through my mind
I feel you stalking from behind
I sense your presence anytime and everywhere

Where do the gods go when we're godless
tell me where do they go Where do the lost souls fly when will we die say where do we go

I'm waiting shaking shadows crawl
My body's aching and I fall
I am the chosen one and only you know why

I open up my arms and turn around and finally I learn your name I bid you welcome my black butterfly

Where do the gods go when we're godless
tell me where do they go
Where do the lost souls fly when will we die
say where do we go

I am your every day and night
I am the pain and your delight
I am your lust and every fear
I am your laughter and your tears
I am the shadow, make you crawl
I am the one who makes you fall
I am the creeps under your skin
And even when I lose I win

Where do they go?
