

Astrid Van Der Veen, Empty Paper

Give me a piece of paper and I'll write
My whole life for you down I think
I'll return an empty paper but
Don't throw it away, it's still my life
Maybe I'll ever write a word when I've found it
Yes, I'm looking for it but it is hard to find

Please give me a another reason to live cause
Mine is total lost and now I am ashamed
Of myself cause I'm not happy I'm Blaming the whole world of things they Really did but I cannot smile from inside out
Yes, I'm working on it but it is hard to find

I think I've found it but
I can't say I missed you my whole life
That would be stupid and I'm not and that's a lie

Let me just believe in my lies or tell me the truth
Choose and come to tell what you decided
And then I'm ready to take me for all that I am
Yes, then I'm ready to take me for all that I am

I think I've found it but
I can't say I missed you my whole life
That would be stupid and I'm not and that's a lie

Give me a piece of paper
