

Astrid Van Der Veen, Remember

He is confusing my feelings
One day he's all my love
Next day he's all my hate

He is all I can think of
Breathing without him
Has no use

He is taking my freedom (now I can't fly)
Unknown, not meant
So I'll accept his jail

He's sweeter than sweet
I can't explain
And you can't taste (that sweetness)

We've met before
But for him I'm a new friend
So I won't tell
We've met again
But he would not believe
So I won't tell

He is treating me strange ways (really strange ways)
I wonder if he knows
We were soulmates

He would tear me all apart
If he'd say he does not know
So I won't ask (no, I won't ask)

We've met before
But for him I'm a new friend
So I won't tell
We've met again
But he would not believe
So I won't tell

We've met before one life back
But for him I'm a new friend do you remember
So I won't tell together all alone
We've met again do you remember
But he would not believe
So I won't tell

Remember I won't tell
Remember I won't tell
Remember I won't tell
