

Astrid Van Der Veen, So Much More

I really wonder how much I miss you
Because you're always with me, in my head, constantly
I guess I found that part in my life that was missing
And I certainly don't want to lose you now

And now I'm your girlfriend

But I'm so much more than that I am, so much more than that
I am, so much more than that
You'll figure it out,
I've thought long enough

Now I'm cold, I close my eyes
I do miss you much when you're gone
I know I can tell you everything
You said so and you're listening
You know me better than anyone
I still smell you, still feel you
We can rise and we can fall
Whatever, It's your room

And now I'm your girlfriend

I won't lie
Won't close my eyes
I'll open them
and see you smile
You're the sweetest person in my life
