

Astrud Gilberto, Jungle (Xang

It's fire, it's light
It's the star that shines so bright
It's love, it's Spring
It's the song for me to sing

I have been to distant places
Walking on a road of stone
There were people all around me
But my heart was all alone

Found myself within a jungle
And At times I had to weep
I saw weeds choking flowers
I saw wolves posing as sheep

In the darkness of the night
Only God could hear my cry
For justice, for protection
For a star to light my sky

Xang, Xang
Ah venha me ajudar
Xang, Xang
Venha me abenoar

But I survived
And the scars made me strong
So here I am
And once again
I will sing my song

It's fire, it's light
It's the star that shines so bright
It's love, it's Spring
It's the song for me to sing
