

Astrud Gilberto, Red Umbrella

I'm so glad, I bought a red umbrella
Because never again I'll be lost in a crowd
Got myself a yellow jacket and a red umbrella
And wherever I go, I'm allowed to speak out

You're a real nice fellow, with much to say
But they will pass you over, if you're dressed in gray
Get yourself a little color and you'll know what I mean
You need a red umbrella, if you want to be seen

Life is better with a red umbrella
Everybody pays attention, everybody's nice
If you want some recognition, get a red umbrella
And believe me, my friend, it will be worth the price

You're a real nice fellow, with much to say
But they will pass you over, if you're dressed in gray
Get yourself a little color and you'll know what I mean
You need a red umbrella, if you want to be seen
