

At Dawn They Sleep, Bumblebee Hair

hey you girl, why don't you look to my face why don't you please fly, fly to my world the unnegative sign, on your lips is something I want to feel, and I will be healed take my hand, and guide me to your nest let me drink your honey, show me the test you are the queen, and I'm your soldier that's all I will be, I can't stand no longer but my mouth is closed, lips tied together your bumblebee hair, flying in the air.

this won't last forever you know, that insects don't live too long not for forever I haven't seen it all

now all that has come to reality new emotions, the best quality but still I'm so sad, because after all why can't the bees live foreve
