

Ataraxie, My Last Breath

I see blood flowing like an endless river
Red is my blood, pale becomes my skin
I creep like a snake so as to reach my last bottle
Like a painter with his picture, I spread my own blood on the floor

Cruel god, why don't you end all those sufferings
Why are you so cruel to me, you're a sadistic

Let me join my paradise where freedom reigns

Stay in your wisdom of hypocrisy
Let humans decide their own destiny
They don't need your rules, they are stupid
And then, I plunge into darkness
