

Athenaeum, Happy Days

lately i've been thinking of something i wanna turn my life around i've been thinking about what's missing i don't really know what i've found everythings been working out but i dont really know what to be in the mirror i see a reflection i don't even know that its me lay down under the sun

when you feel like youre the only one happy days, will come you way you can turn to me and wipe the tears away happy days, will come your way youre the prettiest by far and i hope you feel that way

?... must be an answer something out there making it clear i've been trying my best to remember i hate to waste another year everythings been working out im what i always wanted to be in the mirror i see a reflection i think its starting to look like me

you can turn to me and wipe the tears away

yeah, yeah, yeah
