

Athenaeum, Unnoticed

It takes a lot of power
To change your point of view
And I worry every hour
That I'm away from you
It makes me feel unnoticed
Like I was never there
But I'd give all my life savings
To know you ever cared
Cause you leave me higher
Than I could ever say
But my heart has been on fire
And she's gonna find out
Much too late
Too young to have a boyfriend
Too old to be alone
You'll sneak him in your bedroom
When no one else is home
He'll make you feel rewarded
So blessed and self assured
You never had a prom date
Now you know it's secure
