

Atom And His Package, Me And My Black Metal you took em by surprise, you roll those crazy eyes, like the letter, the things inside your head i can't make up my mind, you know that that's a lie i really have no decision to be amde

you took me by surprise
you took me by surprise

and then you amde me laugh and now i have a question, "did you have to do that?" i feel so dumb inside, i'm tryign to decide but you'd never await my arrival

you took me by surprise
you took me by surprise

i lke to put myself, pretend i'm soneoen else someoen who could write better words than this:

you took me by surprise
you took me by surprise

you took me by surprise, you roll those crazy eyes,
like the letter, the things inside your head
i can't make up my mind, you know that that's a lie i really have no decision to be made walking in the park when everything went dark, i thought i saw your picture i the shadows but i wasnt that at all, in fact it was my car it was someone laughing making me feel small maybe i shuld explain, the best that i can but that would get me in trouble, maybe more than i could handle, i feel bad right now i know that i'm not lucky, so i'll keep my mouth shut and i'll just save it for anyone, and "what's that?" you might ask, and i will say, "i really don't know, i was just being dramatic like a television show" some day i will slip, and i'll say the wrong thing, and the credits will roll and reality will kick in and i say some day i will slip, and i'll say the wrong thing, and the credits will roll and reality will kick in