

Atomic Kitten, Love Doesn't Have To Hurt

I learned a lesson in my life but I learnt the hard way
I don't know why I used to fall in love with the wrong kind
Then I'd suffer so much pain but I only have myself to blame
Maybe you came in the nick of time to show me

Chorus

Love doesn't have to hurt to feel good

It's such a revelation

With you I can be myself and always should

Don't have to cry, don't have to fight,

Don't have to die night after night

You showed me love, love, love doesn't have to hurt to feel good

Thank you baby

Darlin now it seems to me like I've always known you

But I still shudder when I think back on the lonely time

From your eyes I have nothing to hide

Baby you came in the nick of time to show me

Repeat chorus

Lying here beside you feels so fine

Talking about everything in this heart of mine

Repeat chorus
