

Atomic Kitten, The Way That You Are

Looking it over thinking about all the times we've spent together
Don't worry about it 'cause the feelings I had
No longer seem to be with me

Alone in the dark 'til the night turns into day
Falling apart 'cause the love gets in the way

The way that you are
The look in your eyes
Feels like my world is coming together
The way that you smile
Just for a while
I know it took some time to discover
You're the only one

Made it through the bad times
Cried all my tears had to move on with my life now
Know that I will be strong
Now you'll always be mine
Never want to say goodbye

Alone in the dark 'til the night turns into day
Falling apart 'cause the love gets in the way

The way that you are
The look in your eyes
Feels like my world is coming together
The way that you smile
Just for a while
I know it took some time to discover
You're the only one

No more heartache to get me down
No more sadness to be
No more waiting 'til you come round
You know that you're the only one for me
For reasons maybe only I can see

The way that you are
The look in your eyes
Feels like my world is coming together
The way that you smile
Just for a while
I know it took some time to discover
From one broken heart to another
You're the only one
