

Au Revoir Simone, Stars

And since we met
I simply cannot forget
You are on my mind
Yes, since the day we met
I think I haven't slept
More than an hour at a time

You make me wanna measure stars
In the backyard
With a calculator and a ruler, baby
I found a letter that describes
How the moonlight will lead me
To a distant place that you will be

I don't know how
But there's a power
For now it conveys a subtle mystery
And from my house
As I look out
The stars align

You make me wanna measure stars
In the backyard
With a calculator and a ruler, baby
I found a letter that describes
How the moonlight will lead me
To a distant place that you will be

The open sky
Is mine tonight
It gives a sign
Of what I'll find

The open sky
Is mine tonight
It gives a sign
Of what I'll find

You make me wanna measure stars
In the backyard
With a calculator and a ruler, baby
I found a letter that describes
How the moonlight will lead me
To a distant place that you will be

You make me wanna measure stars
In the backyard
With a calculator and a ruler, baby
I found a letter that describes
How the moonlight will lead me
To a distant place that you will be
