Au Revoir Simone, The Lucky One

A dream of togetherness Turned into a brighter mess A faint sigh my spoken best Now, now

Make way for the simple hours No finding the time it's ours A fate or it's a desire I know

So I was the lucky one Reading letters, not writing them Taking pictures of anyone I know

So let the sun shine So let the sun shine So let the sun shine Let it come To show us that tomorrow is eventual We know it when the day is done

So let the sun shine So let the sun shine So let the sun shine Let it come To show us that tomorrow is eventual We know it when the day is done

So let the sun shine
So let the sun shine
So let the sun shine
Let it come
To show us that tomorrow is eventual
We know it when the day is done