

Audio Karate, San Jose

And so darling for once please get clean for me.
Nothing else left I can say.
When I refuse to say words that won't break through you,
deny when you see me, lie when you tell me I'm wrong.
It seems good and fine to you.
Drugs that your doing aren't bad.
And I wish it was easier for me to say,
please girl stop using,
don't runaway, runalong.
To a world that won't lie to you
Trust you and get drawn into your eyes.
There are places that take you in.
It's not some drug rehab, it's what I've been trying to say.
The world has lost faith in you
Promises that you have made.
And there's still a place that believe in you.
Just close your eyes, believe that this world will come true.
The pain that you feel is gone.
Vices in life fade away.
And there's no more pain, no more drugs, no more lies.
No need to worry cause I'm standing here by your side.
Where no harm will come to you.
Don't you see your trust is safe with me.
Of course you must get here first.
No need for directions, allow me to show you the way.
Do you know the way to San Jose?
Let me show you the way.
Do you know where to turn when you do wrong?
That's why I'm singing this song.
So run along.
To a world that won't lie to you.
Trust you and get drawn into your eyes.
There are places that take you in.
It's not social rehab, it's what I've been trying to say.
Do you know the way to San Jose?
Let me show you the way.
Do you know where to turn when you do wrong?
That's why I'm singing this song.
Do you know the way to San Jose?
Let me show you the way.
